It's Easy to ${\it `StartSomething'}$

It is now dawning on the Military Autocracy that it is easier to start a War against the People of America than to stop it. They started the War when it pleased them.

The People of America will stop the War when it pleases the People.

(Special Dispatch to The Tribum)
WASHINGTON, Sept. 23.— The third ational lottery to determine the liabilty for military service of the 13,000,-0 men who registered on September Marshal General Crowder receives re-ports from all states that the serial numbers have been attached to all the numbers have been attached to all the registration cards.

General Crowder to-day sent messages broadcast asking for immediate replies on the progress made in the work of allotting serial numbers to the registrants. He expects definite reports by Wednesday. If all states have completed this task, the provost marshal general will select a day, probably next Friday, for the big drawing. The lottery will be staged in the Senate Office Building, where the two previous drawings took place. Acting Secretary of War Crowell will draw the first number out of the huge bowl, if President Wilson does not accept an invitation to do so.

President Wilson does not accept an avitation to do so.
All arrangements for the drawing ave been made for more than a week, Draft officials hope that it can be held effore the end of this week, in order hat the first call of the new draft may be filled from Class 1 men early in letcher.

be filled from Class I men early in October.

Big blackboards, each with space for 500 numbers, have been placed in the largest hearing room of the Senate building. As the numbers are drawn from the container they will be chalked on the blackboards and, after they have been checked off, as correct, the number-filled blackboards will be photographed to make permanent records of the drawing.

The numbers will be typewritten to slips of paper which will be rolled and inserted in opaque capsules. Clerks working in relays will draw the capsules. It is estimated that each clerk can draw about 600 numbers an hour, each number being called and recorded as it is drawn.

Lawyers Say Answers to Draftees Were Not Correct SOUTH DAKOTA:

Henry W. Taft, Charles A. Boston and Lewis L. Delafield, Jr., permanent members of the Legal Advisory Board under the selective service act, said yesterday that some of the information contained in an article dealing with the draft in Monday's Tribune, was incorrect and misleading. They explained that Maxwell Lustig, who supplied the information on which the article was based, was one of 3,200 volunteer assistants assigned to local advisory boards and did not speak with final authority on general questions of interpretation of the draft regulations. Mr. Lustig stated that the article was not published in the form in which he sent it.

Delay Eliminated In Paying Soldiers, Army Announces

Troops Here Now Receive Money Within 5 Days After First of Month

New System Succeeds

Allotments to Relatives Are Being Sent With Only Slight Lapse

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23 .- Troops in vithin five days or less after the first OTTAWA, Sept. 23.-The following of each month and voluntary allotments slight delay, Brigadier General Wood, Acting Quartermaster General, said to-

A year ago payments were delayed in many cases as late as the twenty-In Navy Casualties fifth of the following month, he said but the efforts of Brigadier General H. M. Lord, head of the financial division of the Quartermaster Corps, have month by month cut down the time until reports from twenty-eight out of thirty-two camps and cantonments for September show all men had received their August pay by September 5. In some instances the men were paid August 31, the general said.

Paying of the men in France is conducted entirely under the direction of officers there and no reports are available. The huge monthly payroll abroad, estimated by General Lord at $49,000,000 a month for every million officers and men, is transferred to General Pershing's chief quartermaster in a lump sum.

cral Pershing's chief quartermaster in a lump sum.

The greatest source of delay in paying the men, General Wood said, has been among the casuals. These includemen travelling from one place to another, and particularly those returning from France, wounded, sick, or on special service detached from their commands. The inauguration of the individual pay card system devised by General Lord, under which each soldier carries his own record with him, makure by the enemy will not cause dis-continuance of allotments. There are many cases, however, where many in the ranks, officers particularly, have not arranged to make allotments, but not arranged to make allotments, but have sent home money each month. In such cases the payment ceases if the man is captured. General Lord has been working with the Red Cross to overcome this obstacle.

Regarding supplies for the army to be secured abroad, General Wood said General Pershing's officers were negotiating for 1,000,000 uniforms, 1,500,000 flannel shirts, 600,000 overseas caps, 3,000,000 pairs of leggins and 3,000,000 pairs of shoes. He added that none of the contracts had been closed, to his knowledge.

The letter announcing Private Markowitz's death was received by a cousin two weeks ago, bore a Paris postmark and purported to come from a French to efficie in whose arms the young man had died. Since then the family has been bombarding the War Department for official news.

In reality, Markowitz was wounded and gassed July 14, while repairing barbed wire entanglements. He was taken to a hospital, operated upon and sent back to the United States, arriving about two weeks ago.

Foe Is Spreading False Mortuary Reports Private Albert Markowitz, of the 165th Infantry, called yesterday at his home, 815 Crescent Street, Long Island City, amazing members of his family, who had been mourning him as dead for two weeks. Hisappearance in the flesh, news of which soon got abroad, heartened several families in the neighborhood and strengthened a suspicion that enemy prepagandists were spreading the "unofficial" mortuary announcements.
